

SMART Group SA - Great October Event

Building on the success of its earlier seminar programmes SMART Group SA, supported by Dataweek, have put together another great event, bringing in even more top level speakers from Europe.

The event is entitled "The A to Z of Soldering" and literally covers all areas of soldering technology, from Adhesives and Bar Solder to Tin Whiskers and Unclean Assemblies, through Printing, Reflow, Selective and Wave Soldering. Simon Clasper, European Product Manager for DEK and Richard Boyle European Technical Manager for Henkel Electronics Materials are two of the very strong eight speaker line-up, including several first time speakers. In addition to the seminar a tremendous new feature will included for the first time in South Africa.

A panel of world class experts will review images of solder related problems and comment on their causes and solutions. This in itself will provide a valuable insight to anyone who is in any way involved with the process, added to an excellent seminar; it makes a learning opportunity which should not be missed.

The events take place around the country, 13th October in Cape Town, 14th and 15th in Midrand and 16th in Durban.

Due to success of the last series and the high attendance and support from sponsors the cost has been reduced from R850 to R700 per member delegate and from R1150 to R1100 for non-member delegates

The cost of Gold Sponsors has also been reduced to give more local companies the opportunity to exhibit to this ever increasing audience and role players in the growing electronics manufacturing industry
